Stewart's Nomination Finally Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee today approved Peter Stewart's nomination as an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Stewart, renominated formally by President Eisenhower last Jan. 17, has been serving on the court since last October. He received a recess appointment at that time while Congress was not in session.

The full Senate must now act on the nomination.

Committee Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) refused to say what the vote was or how any members voted.

Stewart, 41, an Ohio Republican, was a member of the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals when Eisenhower named him to the Supreme Court to succeed retired Justice Harold M. Burton, also from Ohio.

Rules Mayor Can't Draw Two Salaries

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today ruled that Mitchell Davis may not draw a salary as manager of Hope's Water and Sewer Department while also serving as mayor of the city.

The court upheld an injunction of Lawrence Chancery Court prohibiting Davis from drawing $30 monthly in salary and expenses in the manager's job.

The Supreme Court said it agreed with Chancellor P. S. Cunningham that Davis need not refund $14,400 he had been paid for the second job since it was created in 1954. The court noted, however, that there was no appeal on this particular point.

Davis has been mayor since 1949.

The Supreme Court said holding of the dual position was prohibited by law.

Davis had appealed from Cunningham's ruling in a suit brought by Roy J. Doyle and other Hope taxpayers.

The Supreme Court refused a further delay for Emmett Earl Leggett in his long fight to escape the death penalty imposed for the strangulation slaying of 14-year-old Joe King near Jacksonville.

Leggett's attorney sought unsuccessfully to have the Supreme Court withhold its mandate again affirming the death sentence pending an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The mandate will go to Gov. Orval E. Faubus, whose duty it will be to set a date for execution.

The latest unsuccessful appeal to the Arkansas court involved an attempt to force Prison Supt. Lee Henslee to hold a new sanity hearing for Leggett.

Associate Justice Jim Johnson dissented to today's ruling. He would have withheld issuance of the mandate.

Women Chain Selves to Church Statue

LONDON (AP) — Two women chained themselves to a statue of St. Peter in Britain's foremost Roman Catholic cathedral Sunday.

Mrs. Beatrice Snowden, 33, told a judge today the purpose was to "protest about the idolatry and commercialism rampant in the churches."

Mrs. Snowden and her companion, Miss Frances Hay, also 33, said they will not pay $14 fines. The judge gave them seven days to think it over.

The women walked into Westminster Cathedral carrying furling umbrellas. They quickly looped chains around their waists and the feet of the statue, locked them with padlocks, and unfurled the umbrellas to disclose banners reading:

"It's a sin to take money in the House of God."

"It's a sin to bow to graven images."

Police Inspector Geoffrey James cut the chains.

Women to Study School System

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The League of Women Voters of Arkansas plans a study of measures to retain the public school system in this state.

This was approved at a closing session of a two-day state convention which ended here Saturday.

The League also voted to conduct a study aimed at supporting programs for development and conservation of water resources in Arkansas.

Jonesboro was chosen as the site of the 1960 meeting.

Florida Bros. Win Delay of Tax Trial

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The tax evasion trial of wealthy businessmen George H. Florida of Osceola and his brother, Fred, was postponed for several hours in U. S. District Court today after government attorneys said they were not ready to proceed.

Florida, 58, is charged with evading $84,273.30 in income taxes for 1951-53 inclusive.

Judge J. Smith Henley looked surprised when the government lawyers answered "no" to his initial routine query about whether they were ready.

Henley postponed the start of the trial until 2 p. m. today. Originally it was scheduled to begin at 9:30 a. m.

A minor flurry occurred when Helen Smith of Memphis, trustee of certain records of Florida's businesses, could not find records she had been ordered to bring to court.

"They are here somewhere," she said several times.

A defense attorney cleared the air by announcing that the requested documents had been sent to his office and would be transported to the court room by a van.

Government and defense attorneys got into an argument over other material connected with the trial.

A government lawyer said he had to send a man to Osceola to get some needed information. Defense attorneys insisted they had cooperated in making Florida records available.

The disagreement brought a sharp rebuke from Henley. After clearing the court room of the waiting 44 prospective jurors, he said:

"I would suggest that the records had better be here by 2 p. m. Each side knows what is supposed to be here. The court thinks here is gross negligence, but we will not go into that. These questions should have been settled before trial."

Henley also commented that the trial was "getting off to a bad start."

He said he wanted Florida to have a fair trial. And he made it plain he wanted no more wasting of time.

Cotton Trade Group Meets at Jonesboro

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — An annual meeting of the Arkansas-Missouri Cotton Trade Assn. opened here today.

Committees planned to meet this afternoon and a banquet is scheduled tonight.

A general business session will be held tomorrow, final day of the 41st annual convention.

M. K. Horne Jr., of Memphis, chief economist of the National Cotton Council, will be the principal speaker at the general session.

Cotton merchants, brokers and persons from related service agencies in Arkansas and Missouri registered for the meeting.

Foy Echison of Blytheville is expected to be elected president to succeed James W. Kennedy of Pine Bluff.

Dairymen to Meet Here Tuesday

A dairy breeding and management meeting with Extension Dairymen Glen R. Pursley of the University of Arkansas will be held Tuesday morning, April 21, at 10:30 in the juvenile courtroom of the Hempstead county courthouse. All dairymen are invited to attend by County Agent Oliver L. Adams.

Herter Declares He Will Remain a Team Worker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Christian A. Herter, newly named secretary of state, said today he would be a "pretty strong team worker" but that he would travel overseas whenever he felt it necessary.

He made this comment on the turning from a weekend vacation to assume control of the nation's foreign policy as successor to the recently departed John Foster Dulles.

Herter, whose former nomination as secretary went to the Senate today, flew back from a brief rest at his plantation near Clarendon, S.C.

The 64-year-old New Englander strongly hinted that C. Douglas Dillon, undersecretary of state for economic affairs, would be promoted to No. 1 assistant.

Dillon, a 49-year-old former investment banker, was at the airport to greet Herter.

Herter expressed confidence that President Eisenhower's three-day delay in naming him secretary of state would not weaken his prestige in dealing with foreign diplomats.

"Oh, no," he replied when asked about this by newsmen. "The only delay was that he was waiting for the physical report which I was delighted to have made."

Rail Union to Ask Pay Increase

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 14 percent pay increase will be sought by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen for its nearly 200,000 members in negotiations on a new contract this year.

This was announced today by W. P. Kennedy, brotherhood president, who said notices of the union's demands are being sent to the nation's railroads. He said the demands are based on recommendations of the brotherhood's wages-rules committee and have been adopted by the union's general chairman's association.

The BRT, which represents brakemen, conductors, yardmasters and dining car employees, also is asking that the cost-of-living bonus be added to the basic rates before the 14 per cent boost is computed. The bonus, at present 13 cents an hour, is based on the rise or fall of the cost-of-living index.

The basic rate for conductors under the present three-year contract which expires Nov. 1 ranges from $18.11 to $19.91 a day and that for brakemen ranges from $16.39 to $17.83, depending upon the type of service and the area in which they work.

The rates for yardmasters and dining car employees vary according to the railroads for which they work.

Chase Ends in Wreck, Police Auto Damaged

About 1 a. m. Sunday a City Police car was badly damaged when it crashed into an overturned car on Highway No. 4 near the city limits and one officer, Alvin Willis, suffered two cracked ribs.

Officers were trying to overtake L. D. Jones, Negro, when the incident occurred. He fled from the Police car near Yergers school. The chase continued until just beyond the City limits where Jones lost control of his auto, ran up a high bank and overturned back onto the road. The police car was too close to stop and crashed head-on into the overturned car.

Officer A. C. Sinyard was driving the Police car which also carried Mr. Willis and Auxiliary Policeman Don Simpson. Only Willis was injured. The City car was badly damaged and the Jones vehicle was demolished.

Jones was charged with driving while intoxicated. He had posted bond on Friday on a charge of hazardous driving.

Woman Tossed Out Window, Man Held

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A young woman suffered a fractured left leg when she allegedly was tossed out her ground-floor apartment window yesterday and a man was arrested in the incident.

Marcella Wagner, 25, told police a man entered her apartment and attempted to assault her.

Officer Kenneth Hunt quoted her as saying she fought with the intruder and during the scuffle was hurled out the window, which is about six feet from the ground.

Police arrested a man identified as Joseph C. Johnson, 35, shortly after the incident. Johnson was charged with burglary and assault with intent to rape and held under $4,000 bond.

Child Health Day Designated May 1

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower today designated May 1 as Child Health Day.

He invited all citizens to reassess on that day the ways to provide full opportunities for healthy growth and development of our children, he said in a proclamation.

Ike Appeals to Khrushchev to Unblock A-Talks

By TOM OCHILTREE

GENEVA (AP) — President Eisenhower has made a personal appeal to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to take the nuclear test suspension talks out of their present deadlock, it was disclosed here today.

There was no indication of when the letter was written. The Western step-by-step proposal was made April 13 after Easter recess.

Under this plan the three powers would first stop nuclear tests on the surface of the earth, underwater and in the atmosphere to a height of 31 miles. The problem of banning underground and outer space blasts would be left for later negotiations.

The disclosure of Eisenhower's personal appeal came at a time when there was increasing speculation that the whole problem of a nuclear test ban might be taken up during the foreign ministers conference opening in Geneva on May 11.

France is taking part in the foreign ministers conference but is not represented in the nuclear test ban talks.

Up to now Soviet delegate Semyon Tsarapkin has given a negative response to the step-by-step proposal. He has clung to the position that agreement was still possible in the three-power conference for a suspension of all types of nuclear tests.

First Stage of Dardanelle Dam Is Let

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Army Engineers today announced the award of a contract for first stage construction on Dardanelle Lock and Dam and selection of a resident engineer for the project.

Guy H. James Construction Co. of Oklahoma City, Okla., received the contract.

The James firm made the successful low bid of $3,100,000 at a bid opening here April 8.

First stage work calls for initial diversion of the Arkansas River at the dam site and construction of about 440 feet of the upstream end of the dam chamber and 600 feet of earth embankment at the north end of the dam.

This is the first contract awarded for work on the navigation project for the Arkansas River between its mouth and Catosa, Okla., near Tulsa.

The resident engineer will be Charles H. Wagner, for the past three years resident engineer at the New Cumberland Locks and Dam on the Ohio River in the Pittsburgh Engineer District. He is expected to arrive in Arkansas this week.

Wagner is a native of Pittsburgh and has worked for the Army Engineers since 1926.

Herter Is Formally Nominated

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower today formally nominated Christian A. Herter to be secretary of state.

The nomination of Herter, 64, now undersecretary, to succeed career-stricken John Foster Dulles was sent to the Senate from the President's vacation headquarters.

Herter is scheduled to go before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday. Speedy confirmation of the nomination have been predicted.

The President was reported well pleased by the reception of the Herter nomination at home and abroad.

In his first major assignment in the cabinet post, Herter will represent the United States at a Paris meeting of Western foreign ministers starting April 20. That group will go to Geneva May 11 for conferences with the Soviet foreign minister in an effort to ease East-West tensions.

Eisenhower plans to end his two-week vacation Tuesday afternoon and fly back to Washington.

377 Acres to Be Planted in Black-eyed Peas

Through Saturday, 60 farmers requested Monarch black-eyed peas to plant 377 acres for the Arkansas Frozen Foods Inc. of Little Rock under contract announced Elmer Smith of Hope, the Hempstead county representative of the industry today.

The production of the roast ear stage peas for processing by freezing is a new type product for Hempstead county farmers. The plan of the company, according to Bert Atkins of Bald Knob, an officer of the company, is to produce the farm products in areas of Arkansas where farmers desire to grow quality products in volume for the processing plant. Such production would be expected to be a long time industry and not just for one year.

At this time Mr. Smith expects to accept requests for planting seed through Wednesday of this week. Interested farmers are requested to contact Mr. Smith or County Agent Oliver L. Adams. At a meeting in Hope on April 8, Mr. Atkins said 500 acres of the peas were desired in the Hempstead county plan.

Mississippi Accident Kills Five Persons

MCCOMB, Miss. (AP) — Five men were killed and a sixth injured in a two-car collision near McComb today.

The Highway Patrol said the two cars collided on Highway 24 five miles west of McComb.

They tumbled along the highway for about 100 feet, strewn their occupants along the roadside.

One car caught fire and burned one of the victims.

Officers identified one of the dead as Joseph Yagloslas, 26, of Baton Rouge. Mr. Yagloslas was alone in a car headed east.

In a westbound car were five Hercules Power Co. men headed from Hattiesburg, Miss. to a job at Alexandria, La.

The four killed were Gerald R. Reynolds, 23, of New Augusta, Miss.; Lewis Shows, 63, of Wayneboro, Miss.; W. W. Breland, 44, of Hattiesburg, and Howard Rogers.

Rogers was burned and officers were unable to learn his age and home address.

The injured man was Daniel McDonald Jr., 31, of Petal. He was hospitalized at McComb for observation.

G. W. Lewis Dies Teaching Sunday School

George Washington Lewis, aged 73, a retired school teacher and former legislator, died Sunday while teaching a Sunday School class at First Presbyterian Church here.

Dr. Jim McKenzie, a member of the class, examined Mr. Lewis when he slumped to the floor after talking about 10 minutes. He said death was apparently from a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Lewis served two terms in the State Legislature, being elected in 1913 and again in 1942. He formerly taught school in Texarkana, Horatia and Jones Mill. He had lived here about two years formerly operated the Oaks Courts. A native of Bismarck, Ark., Mr. Lewis was a Presbyterian.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anna Fride Lewis, two sons, Fride M. Lewis of Tulsa and George W. Lewis, Jr. of Little Rock; two brothers Wylie Lewis of Foreman and Willie Lewis of Seattle Wash.; a sister Mrs. Della Gamble of Mangum Okla.

Services were to be held at 2 p. m. Monday at Oakcrest Funeral Chapel by Dr. L. T. Lawrence. Burial by Oakcrest will be in Horatio. Active pallbearers: Fay James, Duffie Booth, Fred Ellis, Comer Boyett, Gene White and Charles Wilson.

Castro Tributes Unknown Soldier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro, in the full uniform of his Cuban revolutionary army, today paid tribute to unknown warriors of the United States.

Solemn faced, he laid a wreath of pink and white carnations and lilies at the foot of the tombs of the unknowns in Arlington National Cemetery.

Instead of the usual open-necked shirt, Castro wore jacket, white shirt and black tie with no decorations.

Congress Told of Giveaway Waste in Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citizens group told Congress today there is a "giveaway philosophy" in foreign aid which encourages waste, extravagance and corruption at home and abroad.

It criticized military aid on the grounds that "if war comes there is a strong possibility that to survive, many of our allies will adopt neutrally lest they be incriminated."

The volley of criticism came from the Citizens Foreign Committee in testimony to the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Spokesman for the group were its chairman, Walter Harnischfeger, president of the Harnischfeger Corp., Milwaukee, and its national director, retired army Brig. Gen. Bonner Fellers, Washington.

The group, which says it is an isolationist, earlier had asked that foreign aid be cut in half now and abolished in three years.

The Foreign Affairs Committee is hearing testimony on President Eisenhower's $3,030,000,000 foreign aid program.

"The group had argued before that North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces are not an effective war deterrent.

Fellers said "excessive expenditures for conventional weapons—meaning the Army and the surface fleet—which cannot be decisive against the enemy, our extension of aid to doubtful allies who can be blackmailed into neutrality just as they be incriminated and the global diffusion of our effort are all a waste of our effort which could spell our doom."

China Stunned By Charges of Dalai Lama

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Red China apparently has been stunned by the Dalai Lama's insistence that it savagely suppressed the Tibetan independence movement and forced him into exile.

This is suggested by the sudden interruption of the plenary sessions of the Chinese Parliament in Peking, and the official silence the Reds have maintained toward the fugitive young ruler's statement.

The Communists have been insisting that Tibetan rebels forced the Dalai Lama to flee with them. The Reds seem to have counted on Prime Minister Nehru muzzling his guest in the interests of Chinese-Indian relations already strained by events in Tibet.

The Chinese people's congress went into a two-day recess Saturday soon after it opened, possibly to permit Mao Tse-tung, Premier Chou Enlai and other top Reds to examine the new situation created by the Dalai Lama's accusations.

The Chinese delay in replying to these charges—which have seriously damaged Peking's prestige in Asia—indicates that they were caught flat-footed.

They have had nearly a month to prepare for the possibility that the Dalai Lama would reach haven in one of Tibet's neighboring countries and disclose the truth of the situation in his homeland.

Search Starts for a Missing Man

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Officers and volunteers combed an area near the junction of the Arkansas and Poteau Rivers today in a hunt for a missing city employee.

Wesley Mahan, 46, of Fort Smith, was reported missing by his wife when he failed to return home Saturday night.

Mrs. Mahan told police her husband, who works for the Fort Smith Street Department, left his house early Saturday afternoon after telling her he was going to a city workshop. She said he appeared in good spirits.

A fisherman who lives at Arkoma, located on a bank of the Arkansas River near the junction late Saturday. He notified authorities when he saw the car in the same place yesterday.

The car belonged to Mahan. A search party of 75 men uncovered 30 Fort Smith city employees.

Nothing makes a man feel worse than to get a low grade on his kid's homework.

Bolivia Revolt Leader Ends His Own Life

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The leader of Sunday's short-lived revolt committed suicide after his rightist uprising was crushed, the government announced today. At least 22 persons were slain, and more than 50 were wounded in the course of the attempted coup.

The government of this poverty-plagued nation said Oscar Unzuaga de la Vega, head of the Falange party, took his life Sunday night in a house in the outskirts of this capital in which he had hidden his bodyguard, Juan Gallardo also shot himself to death, the government announcement said.

President Hernan Siles Suazo announced the defeat of members of the Falange party who tried to seize the city hall Sunday, attacked an army barracks and marched on the government radio station and municipal offices.

Government forces broke up the attacks and then began a cleanup of Falangist rebels.

Many of the wounded were reported to be bystanders caught in the crossing between government forces and insurgents.

Two insurgent leaders were captured, Rafael Loayza, a retired colonel, and Luis Saenz.

A government radio station said Siles declared a state of siege and modified martial law throughout the country.

There were no reports of trouble outside of La Paz. The government said it held control of all provincial capitals. Official reports from Cochabamba and Oruro said peasants and workers had joined the government militia in controlling those cities.

The Falange is the main opposition to Siles Suazo's Nationalist Revolutionary Movement (MNR), which led a successful revolution seven years ago and won more than 80 per cent of the votes in national elections in 1956.

The president in a broadcast Sunday night said the revolt was planned by Falange head Oscar Unzuaga de la Vega and Carlos Victor Aramayo, whose large tin properties in Bolivia were nationalized in 1952. Aramayo now lives in Europe.

Nationalization of the tin mines and land reform were the two chief planks in the MNR program, but the tin nationalization, particularly has not produced the

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time, a new substance has been found which shrinks piles, stops itching, and relieves pain without surgery.

Dr. J. H. Russell, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H. At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

Flight Special Aimless Hour of Information

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — NBC-TV's World Congress of Flight special Sunday was a skittery and diffuse construction, an hour of chatty chatter and aimless information.

Some of its parts were mildly absorbing, a look at our X-15 "savage ship," a talk with a flying farmer, a few words from Dr. Edward Teller. But most of the show's taped footage — much of it, incidentally, of indifferent quality — was made up of the sort of aerial fodder that is the stuff of newsreels and old Chester Morris movies.

There is nothing inherently interesting about watching a series of planes flying back and forth across a 21-inch tube.

Where the show went astray was in its excessive devotion to things, and its almost complete neglect of ideas. The men and women of 47 nations who gathered last week in Las Vegas for the World Congress of Flight must have traded a good deal of sparky talk about man and the space age, but none of this was in evidence Sunday.

Instead, plane after plane was trotted out, and we were drilled on horsepower, wing shape, speed. There was a rather dreary demonstration of Air Force firepower. People were fetched on — Air Force generals, a flying grandmother, actor Bob Cummings, a child rocket builder — but no one really had anything to say.

The glitzy mass that resulted seemed more like a catalog of prosperity the party anticipated. The country's economic position has worsened steadily despite considerable U.S. aid. Tin miners have struck twice in the past six weeks in protest against higher commissary food prices which the government ordered at the urging of the international monetary fund.

Short Shot: Lana Turner's qualifications for a guest spot on the NBC-TV Dinah Shore show Sunday night are not apparent to me. She is quite lacking in skills of any sort and, as a result, fell back upon the only recourse possible: acting the role of the "good snort."

It's a role all untalented Hollywood stars assume on TV variety shows, but to be fair, I must concede Miss Turner was quite successful in manufacturing her mark. She is, however, like so much Hollywood produce of her period, quite obviously a triumph of directorial acumen and press agency.

"The Final Ingredient," a special Reinald Ross play offered on ABC-TV Sunday was an earnest little number stuffed with a formidable cast — John Cassavetes, Martin Balsam, George Voskovec, Sam Jaffe. It was, nevertheless, a rather awkward half-hour, clumsily written and stridently acted.

CBS-TV's Twentieth Century looked at the battle for Stalin's grad Sunday and a fine, punchy piece it was.

The Channel Swim! The NBC-TV's fading Oldsmobile Music Theater is a live situation comedy. The Younger To Go Steady, which stars Don Ameche, Ed McCrow's one-hour filmed talk with Field Marshal Bernard Montgomery is set for April 23 on CBS-TV.

An auto company (Plymouth) has signed on as full-time sponsor for NBC-TV's Steve Allen Show next fall — the series will be shifted from Sunday to Monday night's beginning Sept. 28.

NBC-TV's Omnibus has postponed its production of "H.S. Pinaford" from April 28 to May 10 on April 28 Omnibus will run off an Abbey Theatre film, "Professor Tim."

Riverboat, a one-hour adventure series which stars Darren McGavin, looks like a certain Sunday night entry for NBC-TV next fall.

Meals to Be Served in Yenger School

Yenger school meals this week:

Monday — Macaroni and cheese, buttered green beans, peach cobbler, hot biscuits, butter, milk.

Tuesday — Hot dogs and toasted cheese sandwiches, rice pudding, milk.

Wednesday — Beef patties, rice, gravy, cabbage, celery & tomato salad, peanut butter cookies, hot biscuits, butter, milk.

Thursday — Butter beans with pork, combination vegetable salad, butter roll, corn bread, butter, milk.

Friday — Spanish rice, buttered peas, banana pudding, white bread, milk.

aimlessness than what it might have been — an orderly and penetrating examination of a field that is one of the most exhilarating in man's history.

Prisoners in Montana Face Iron Discipline

DEER LODGE, Mont. (AP) — Iron discipline behind their cell doors took the place of a 36-hour madness for 433 inmates of the Montana State Prison today.

Armed National Guardsmen whose early morning blitz foiled a convict escape try and rescued 21 hostages continued on duty.

The soldiers and prison guards began a search of the prisoners Saturday, within hours after the uprising was quelled. Two convict ringleaders died in the furious action which ended the worst prison incident in years. A deputy warden was slain late Thursday.

Warden Floyd E. Powell ordered the convicts to their cells, without privileges, they are being given sandwiches and coffee in their cells.

Powell said he expects to conduct extensive convict interview to pinpoint the cause of the violence that began last Thursday.

An estimated 15 convicts were said by officials to have planned and executed the revolt. Warden Powell described the rebellion itself as a clever cover for the prisoners' efforts to tunnel to safety in an effort that failed when the diggers ran into an underground concrete slab.

The troublemakers, Powell said, have been isolated. They were given a change of prison clothes, a bucket and a mattress.

"Discipline is firm and tight but fair," the warden said.

One of the two ringleaders killed during the final assault, Jerry Myles, 44, was believed to have been digging when National Guardsmen burst in under a cover of bazooka, rifle and machine gun fire.

Myles and Lee Smart, 19, retreated to the prison's northwest tower. There, Smart, apparently killed his companion with a rifle shot, then took his own life as the troops closed in.

The other victim of the revolt was Dept. Warden Ted Rothe, 40. Smart is believed to have killed him with a rifle shot in the back.

He will address the annual Elaine Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting in Phillips County tomorrow night and a meeting of dentists at Harrison Friday. Meanwhile he plans to meet delegations and take care of regular office business.

Must Pay Off Part of Debt, Says Anderson

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson said today it would be impractical to postpone paying off part of the record national debt in prosperous times.

Furthermore, Anderson declared a budget surplus that would permit debt repayment is one of the steps required to head off inflation.

"We must realize that long term economic growth in real terms can be achieved only without inflation," Anderson said in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of The Associated Press.

He rejected arguments of some administration critics who want to stimulate the economy through greater federal spending.

"We must not, as we come out of a recession, seek to force the economy into a quick boom which can later injure our long-run capacity to produce," Anderson said.

The national debt now stands at 280 billion dollars — the highest point on record.

"To ignore the obligation of paying off some part of our debt during prosperous times is to court disaster for our American traditions of good faith and performance," Anderson said.

Anderson said he rejects talk that efforts to balance the budget are without hope.

He recalled that last January the administration estimated federal revenues would total 77 billion dollars in the 1960 fiscal year that begins July 1.

"Today," he said, "I believe there is even more evidence to support this estimate than there was last January."

This statement conflicted with a recent estimate by the House Ways and Means Committee that revenues will fall more than a billion dollars short of the administration's target.

Former Commissioner of Highways Dies

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Ewell C. Rider, a prominent businessman and former Arkansas highway commissioner, died of a heart attack at his home today.

Rider had been in ill health for several years.

He served as a member of the Highway Commission under former Gov. Ben Laney.

Rider, owned the Rider Motor Co. here and had extensive farming and banking interests.

A native of Charlotte, near Batesville, he opened an auto agency at Calico Rock about 30 years ago. Soon after he moved to Batesville and went into the auto business here.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include the widow, a brother, Earl Rider, of Batesville, and a sister, Mrs. Dudley King, of Charlotte.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Storms Lash Sections of Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Severe thunderstorms, wind and hail whipped parts of Arkansas yesterday. No tornadoes were reported.

Orange-size hailstones were reported at Ludlow, a community in the peach-growing area near Clarksville.

State Police said roofs were damaged and trees uprooted by hail and wind at Corning, in the extreme northern part of the state.

Two severe weather alerts were issued, one for extreme western Arkansas which included the possibility of a twister. This expired at 7 p. m. and was replaced by a warning of severe thunderstorms which ended at midnight.

Heavy rain and hail the size of golfballs was reported at Clarksville and Ozark, causing damage to roofs, windows and automobile windshields.

Peach growers inspected their orchards for signs of damage. Mrs. Tyvin Graves, wife of a grower at Ludlow, reported hailstones measuring seven inches in circumference.

Hail covered the ground up to a depth of three inches at Greenway, near the Missouri border. No damage estimates were available.

Glenn Ahl, assistant county agent of Dunklin County, said the hail could be very serious to young cotton. However, only about 15-20 per cent of the season's crop has been planted and only about five per cent of the planting was tall venue produced from it. She said the money would be spent for projectors, furniture for the Junior High Lounge, maps and globes, piano, library books, field equipment, drinking fountains, first aid equipment, record players, blackout curtains and other items.

The program then was turned into a discussion of problems the parent faces in rearing teenage children. Dr. John McClanahan presented a motion picture film on the problem of alcohol and its effects on the lives of children.

Mrs. Homer Boyerley, program chairman, introduced Police Chief Jack Brown, County Judge U. G. Garrett and former Deputy Prosecuting Attorney C. V. Nunn, Jr., who told the group how they dealt with teenage offenders—discussing primarily teenage automobile drivers and traffic violations.

The audience then joined into a discussion with a question and answer period which was very informative.

Coming and Going
Miss Alice Anderson, Miss Milzi Polk, Mrs. Lester Kent, Mrs. E. N. May, and Miss Minor Polk attended a meeting of the Arkansas Association for Retarded Children, held in Little Rock on Sunday.

Dr. John McClanahan left Shreveport by plane, Saturday, for Washington, D. C., where he is conducting a revival this week at the Takoma Park Baptist Church. In his absence, Dr. Tom Logue of Little Rock, State B.S.U. Director, filled the pulpit at the First Baptist Church, Sunday, at the morning and evening services.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stephens of Blevins are attending a national convention of wholesale grocers, which is being held this week in Miami, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ruggles have their daughter, Mrs. June Humphries, and her family of Shreveport, La., visiting them.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tillery of Dallas, Tex., spent the weekend in Hope with some of their friends.

Mrs. Webb Laseter, St., left Sunday for Longview, Tex., to visit Mrs. George Lewis, formerly of Hope.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Tooley and daughter, Nancy, spent the weekend in Clarksville, Texas., with Mr. and Mrs. Farley and other relatives for a family reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Halbert of Ruston, La., have been the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Halbert and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cunningham.

Splendid Spouse Makes Wife Feel Superfluous

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: This is the second marriage for both my husband and me. In my former marriage I was accustomed to doing all household chores myself even though I was working. My ex-husband never offered his services—and didn't know how to do things around the house anyway. My present mate, Bob, is the exact opposite and frankly, I don't know how to cope with him. He brings me coffee in the morning, fixes breakfast, drives me to work, meets me at night, starts dinner, cleans the house, washes dishes and cooks meals. He loves doing it but makes me feel superfluous. I feel he really doesn't need me. I love him dearly but feel guilty about having him do things I should be doing. He has a job, too, works hard and steadily, brings home a good salary, is completely dependable and very agreeable. I'm just awed by it all. I guess—Janice

DEAR JANICE: How come away No. 1 let this paragon get away from her? You have a thoroughbred, Janice. Don't look the gift horse in the mouth. Some men ask nothing from life but to find a woman to pet, pamper and spoil. Enjoy it. It will probably last, a child or two—or three, or four—in the household would balance the work load and banish your feeling of inadequacy.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My best girl friend has a twin brother who is extremely intelligent, well-read, an interesting conversationalist, but with practically no self-confidence. His sister tells me he thinks no girl could possibly like him. It's true he is utterly lacking in social graces but I prefer the diamond-in-the-rough type. I know he likes me and, unless he is absolutely blind, he must know I like him. But he has never asked for a date.—Ex asperated.

DEAR EXASPERATED: If sure does like us females when a mere man resists every encouragement we give him. When women are so susceptible, what right has a man to remain untouched? I think your diamond-in-the-rough just doesn't want to be bothered by girls. The only way you can reach him is through the intellect. Ask his advice about something, invite him to a brainy lecture (even if it bores you stiff), read a deep book and discuss it with him. You might even grow to like the stuff yourself. If constant dripping can wear away a stone, it must have some effect on an egghead.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Is it correct to accept presents such as clothes and jewelry from my boss? We're both married. What kind of presents would be proper?—MRS. R.B.

DEAR MRS. R.B.: Cold cash is the most proper, useful and simplest gift for an employer to give any employee. Clothes and jewelry are out.

Ten Persons Die in State Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ten persons died in accidents in Arkansas during the week ending at midnight yesterday.

Fire and traffic accidents took three lives each. One persons was crushed by a tractor, another accidentally electrocuted and another shot accidentally.

Armon Nail, about 54, died yesterday when fire swept his farm home near Lowell, south of Bentonville. His two sons, Gary, 21, and Larry, 17, escaped from the house through a bedroom window. Sheriff Hugh Black said.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

J. A. Joyner, 53, of Judsonia, was killed Saturday night near Augusta when a station wagon crashed into his overturned pickup truck, knocking it into Joyner and his wife. Mrs. Joyner suffered only a minor head injury. State Trooper Pat Patterson said.

Joyner had been driving west on U.S. 64 when his pickup struck a culvert and overturned. He and his wife were standing beside it when the station wagon driven by Earl R. White, 29, of Wynne, hit the truck. White was not hurt.

Athletics, Red Sox, Senators Come Through

BY JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the New York Yankees have another Zeke Berra to ship to their Kansas City "farm club," the Athletics will be glad to pay the freight.

Berra, shunted to the A's as part of the deal that brought Milt Pappas to Kansas Stadium last fall, came through with a big hit Sunday in Cleveland. The rookie's pinch double with the bases loaded knocked the Indians out of the unbeaten class and gave Kansas City a 4-3 victory.

Herb Score had pitched a terrific game for eight innings. The A's had been shut out with only two hits and trailed 2-0. Even Bill Tuttle's leadoff home run didn't seem to matter. However, singles by Hector Lopez and Roger Maris, a walk to Hal Smith and Berra's double-driving in three runs ended the Tribe's streak at six straight.

Frank Malzone, a boy from New York's Bronx who wound up with Boston, came through with a 12th inning home run off Ryne Duren for a 5-4 Red Sox decision over the Yankees.

Baltimore staged a wild rally, scoring six runs in the seventh for an opening 7-5 victory over Washington, but the Senators came back to take the rain-delayed second 4-2 behind Russ Kemmerer. Cold weather postponed the Detroit at Chicago game.

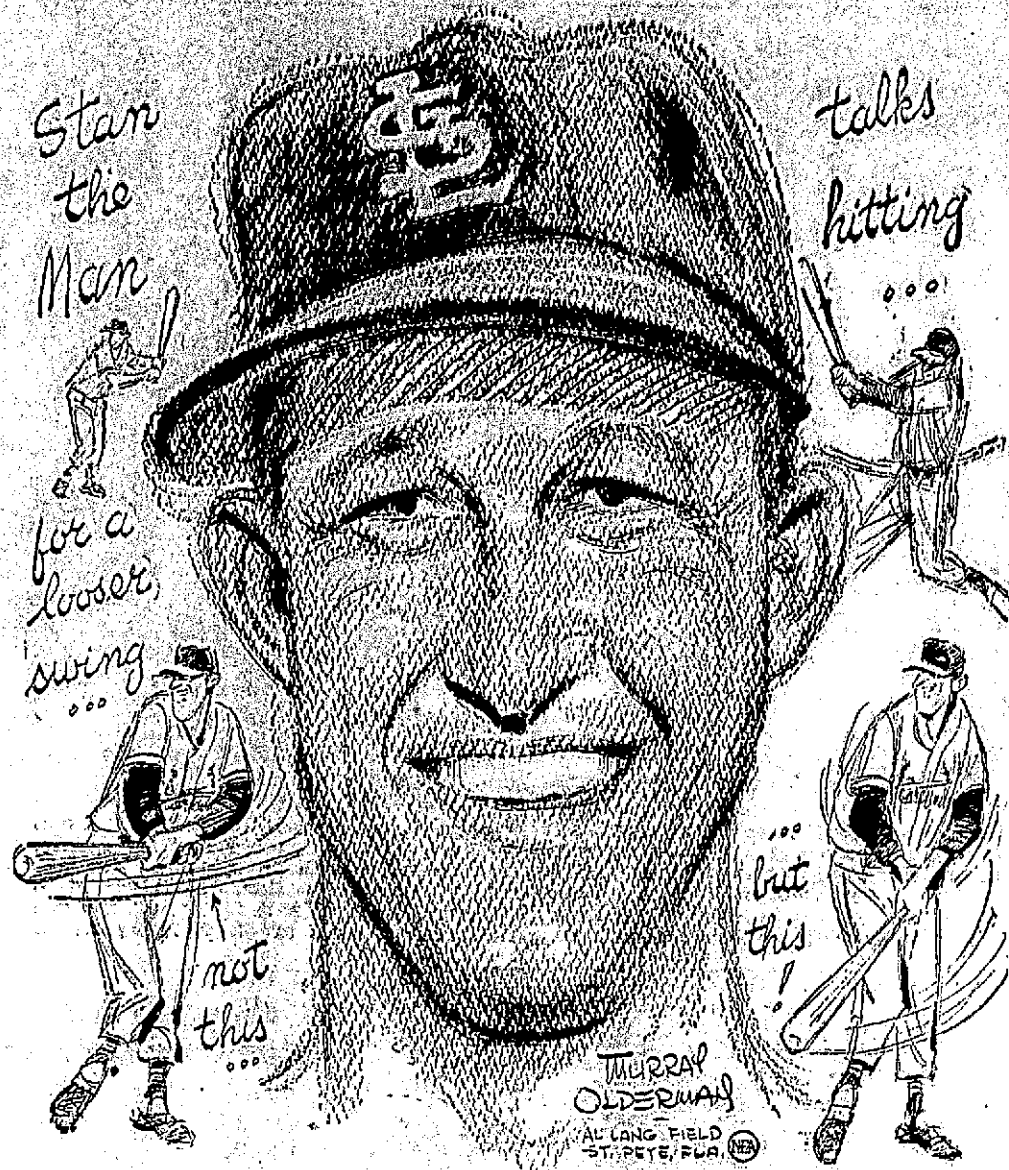

In the National League, San Francisco kept right on moving with Johnny Antonelli copping his third straight 3-1 on an eight-hitter over St. Louis. Milwaukee and Pittsburgh found it too cold to play at Milwaukee.

Los Angeles came up with five in the eighth behind Johnny Podres for an 8-3 victory over Chicago. Cincinnati pounded out 12 hits in a 12-5 romp over the Phillies, with Frank Robinson driving in four runs with a homer and single.

Even in defeat, the Cleveland club managed to come up with a homer. Wally Moon smashed his fifth of the year in the bottom of the ninth. Ray Herbert, making his first start, went all the way for the A's.

Enos Slaughter, soon to be 43, tied the score for the Yanks with a ninth-inning homer at Fenway Park. The Red Sox, held to two hits after the third inning, got the big one when Malzone knocked Duren's 1-0 pitch into the left field screen in the 12th.

mered an Ike Delock fast ball off the left field screen in the first for another homer.

The first game at Baltimore was a dilly. The tie-breaking run in the big seventh came when Dick Hyde hit Chico Carrasquel squaring on the top of the head with a pitch with the bases loaded. Twelve Orioles batted in the inning.

Carrasquel finished the first game and played part of the second game before he went to the hospital for a check. Kemmerer kept the Orioles under control in the second game while the Senators beat Jack Harshman on home runs by Harmon Killebrew and Jim Lemon.

Giants, Dodgers and Redlegs Post Victories

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

San Francisco finally is getting a look at the real Johnny Antonelli, the man who must win and win big if the Giants are to jolt Milwaukee lose from the National League pennant.

A year ago Seals Stadium fans must have been wondering if it was true what they read about Johnny. He didn't win a game until April 28 and he didn't grab his third until May 18. He struggled around 500 until midseason and finally wound up at 16-13.

This is a new year and a new Antonelli. The 29-year-old left-hander from Rochester, N.Y., boasts a shiny 30 record. He scattered eight hits Sunday while pitching the Giants to a 3-1 victory over St. Louis.

Los Angeles stuck on the heels of the Giants by scoring five in the eighth inning to beat Chicago 8-3.

Johnny Podres, who usually does his best in the Coliseum, recovered from a miserable start and threw a four-hitter at the Cubs for his first victory.

Duke Snider finally came through with his first homer of the year, moving into 10th place on the all-time list. It was his 332nd homer, moving him ahead of Hank Greenberg on the role of select sluggers.

Cincinnati's power-packed lineup did a little slugging at Crosley Field, burying the Phillies 12-5 despite some unsavory pitching by rookie Jim O'Toole. After the rookie had walked seven, Manager Mayo Smith brought in Bob Mabe to take over in the fifth. Mabe allowed only two hits in a 4-2-3 inning.

Frank Robinson continued his slugging spree, knocking in four runs with a homer and a single. It was his third home run of the season.

Milwaukee had to postpone its scheduled game with Pittsburgh because of cold weather and a threat of rain.

In the American League, the Cleveland Indians finally were beaten after winning six straight. Kansas City did the job 4-3, scoring four in the ninth off Herb Score.

Frank Malzone's 12th inning home run off Ryne Duren gave Boston a 5-4 decision over the New York Yankees.

The Detroit at Chicago game was postponed because of cold weather.

Baltimore and Washington split a pair at Baltimore, the Orioles rallied with six runs in the seventh to grab the opener 7-5. Russ Kemmerer went the route for Washington in its 4-2 second game triumph.

Wally Moon led the Giants attack with three singles in a perfect day at bat. He now has five straight singles. On his last time up, he was hit by a pitched ball thrown by loser Larry Jackson. Willie Mays knocked in two runs, scoring Davenport twice.

Podres and Dave Hillman were locked in a 3-3 tie when the Dodgers broke loose in the eighth. Wally Moon's single drove in the first two runs. Junior Gilliam, Snider, Don Demeter and Charley Neal also singled in the big inning.

Matter of Fact

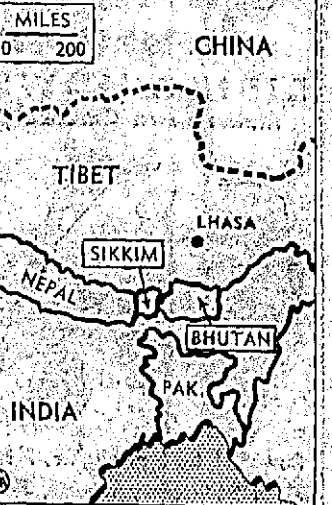

Public libraries as they are known today are not more than 100 years old. Great English leaders like William Ewart, urged public support of libraries early in the 19th century. An act of the English Parliament permitting the establishment of public libraries was passed in 1850. Since that time growth has been steady until today books and libraries are a basic part of civilization.

Porker Sophs Post Victory Over Veterans

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Some sparkling sophomores spurred the youthful white team to a 22-12 victory over the veteran Red squad in the Arkansas Razorbacks' first spring scrimmage Saturday.

Captain Frank Broyles said the game was "presentable" and said the gridgers were hitting better than they had during the first week of spring training, which resumes today.

James Monroe, quarterback, and halfback Jarrell Williams scored the two Red touchdowns, Monroe going over on a keeper from the three and Williams scoring from the six.

Quarterback George McKinney passed to Jim Gaston for 10 yards and the first White touchdown. Halfback Bruce Fullerton powered over from the three for the second tally and Alworth scored on a nine-yard run after quarterback Sonny Holmes set it up with a 43-yard pass to Fullerton.

While tackle Paul Henderson blocked a puntoff the top of Skipper Tackett and covered it out of the end zone for a safety.

35th to Again Hold Meet at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Plans for the 35th Division Assn. annual reunion to be held at Little Rock Sept. 18-20, were drawn yesterday. Gov. Orval E. Faubus, a member of the association, met with the group's executive committee at the planning session.

The division, organized before World War I as a National Guard unit, trained in 1941 at nearby Camp Robinson and saw action in Europe during World War II.

Warren Osgood of Little Rock is chairman of the reunion committee.

MOTORIZED MILKING—There's more than one way to milk a cow, as demonstrated on this farm at Oestra Ljungby, Sweden. Troubled by frequent power breaks while using his electric milking machine, farmer Anders Olsson decided to employ the power from his automobile engine to do the job. All he needed was a siphon fitted onto the auto's air intake valve, a hose and a pulsator. When the chore's done, Olsson puts the cans in the car and drives away.

THE STORY Jim Furlong decides to take like Rule, who was wounded by Empire riders, to Fern Lindstrom's home, like was badly wounded when he was mistaken for Jim, who is carrying on a renegade warfare against the powerful Empire ranch.

There was no lamplight in Fern Lindstrom's house. Coming into the moonlit yard, Furlong wondered if she was already in bed. That didn't seem likely; then he realized that this was Saturday and that she had probably gone to town.

"Fern!" he called. There was no answer, and now, passing by the cowpen, he saw that the cow she kept up had not been milked today. The wagon was gone, and so was the team of bays; a bald-faced sorrel stood alone in the corral.

Furlong steadied Rule while dismounting, and then got him onto the kitchen stoop. Leaving like there he went inside and lighted a lamp.

Carrying the lamp through a parlor, Furlong paused at one of the doorways opening from it. The room beyond Fern's bedroom appeared unused. There was a bed with a straw tick and a tarp-covered bedroll. Furlong opened the bedroll and returned to the stoop. Rule remained limp as Furlong carried him to the bed.

Transferring his saddle to the bald-faced sorrel, Furlong rode down a moonlit trail that led toward town.

When Furlong sighted the pale glow of Mace Gillum's lamplight tent he turned off the trail. He saw Gillum standing in the tent's open flapped entrance, reading a newspaper by lantern light.

Then Furlong observed a team and wagon barely visible in a pool of deep shadow, and he guessed at once that Fern Lindstrom had stopped by here on her way home from town. He was mildly surprised that Fern would take up with a man younger than herself. You could never tell about women; they seemed so prim and proper until the man and the moon and the night made a magical change in them.

Furlong came on cautiously until the shadow of Fern's moonlit hair confirmed his supposition. Mace Gillum called urgently: "Who is it?"

Furlong identified himself and rode in.

Fern stood up. "You're riding my horse."

Embarrassed now, Furlong told about finding like Rule and taking him to her house. "I'm on my way to get Doc Slattery."

Gillum asked, "Don't you know Sheriff Link is hunting you?"

"Everyone in town is riled up against you," Fern said. "They and that his domination is taken for granted, not only by small ranchers, but by such guardians of lawful procedure as County Attorney Fred Eggleston, Circuit Judge Clem Barstow and Sheriff Link."

"I had better go see how like Rule is," Fern said when Furlong finished reading the paper. He had been aware of her contemplative eyes. Her face, softly illumined by the glowing embers, held a tranquil, yet somehow attentive expression that was half smiling and half sober. Standing so, with her hair a burnished loveliness in the moonlight, she made a picture for him—a picture so pleasing and so impelling that Furlong wondered if Mace Gillum visited her place often, and supposed he did.

"I saw Grace Kimble in town today," Fern said.

"So?"

"She thinks you have left Warrior Basin."

"With Pardee's $1,000?"

Fern nodded, and turning toward her team, added, "Keep the sorrel as long as you want, Jim."

"Thanks," Furlong said. He was watching her climb onto the wagon when the sound of approaching horses—one to the south and another to the east—jerked him alert. While he reached for the sorrel's reins, Fern said urgently, "Someone coming, Jim."

Furlong swung into saddle and was passing the tent when he glimpsed a rider coming into the moonlit clearing from the west. Swerving northward and spurring the sorrel to a run, he heard this man yell, "Stop or I'll shoot."

The first bullet evidently pinked the sorrel for he grunted and lunged in mid stride. Furlong snapped a shot at two riders who broke out of the pines to his right; changing course again, he glimpsed three charging shapes quartering toward him from the south and distinctly heard Cleo Veto yell, "Cut him off—cut him off!"

In the moments it took to reach the shadowed pool of pines west of the clearing, Furlong's back muscles clinched at the wild twang of successive bullets that barely missed. A sense of awful aloneness chilled him, yet his strongest emotion was outrage—a resentment so overwhelming that he could not resist the urge to retaliate. Swiveling around in saddle he chose a target, but before he could press trigger that horse and rider went down, and now another pursuer fell from the saddle, the gun in his outstretched hand making a glinting arc in the moonlight.

Hugely puzzled, Furlong fired at an oncoming shape off to his left, missed, and now became aware of a nearby rifle's steady blasting from the pines ahead of him.

Mace Gillum, he thought instantly, guessing that Mace had run into the approaching riders and been forced to circle back; but now, as the hidden rifleman

PTA Members in State Convention

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—About 1,000 delegates converged on Little Rock today for the 35th annual convention of the Arkansas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The delegates represent 650 PTA groups having more than 126,000 members in Arkansas.

Mrs. C. W. Dotson of Webster Grove, Mo., is scheduled to address the first general meeting of the convention tonight. She is the national PTA chairman for high school service.

The three-day event winds up Wednesday.

Teen-agers and their problems will draw the attention of Mrs. Dotson and other convention speakers.

called, "Come on!" It didn't sound like Gillum's voice.

Furlong rode into pine-scented darkness and heard another rider parallel him through the trees. Presently, when they stopped to listen, the man asked, "Are you Jim Furlong?"

"Yes."

In a moment while he waited for the man to introduce himself, Furlong heard a remote rumor of travel east of them, and the man said, "We'd best be riding."

Once, when they stopped to listen, the man asked, "You got some hideout in mind?"

"Yes," Furlong said. "Mind if I come along?"

"Glad to have you," Furlong assured, and was more puzzled than ever.

As they crossed an open stretch of moonlit ground, Furlong had his first look at the stranger's face and knew he had never seen this dark, middle-aged man before.

Shortly after 10 o'clock Sid Link rode into the Palace Livestock-lantern-lit doorway and dismounted in the slow, tedious way of an old man feeling his years. It had been a long time since Link had spent a day and half the night in saddle.

Sid Link had never considered himself to be a powerful man, nor an important one. Being elected sheriff had pleased him because he much preferred wearing a star to punching cows, and it bolstered his self esteem. It was his once source of pride. But he had not felt proud at Empire this evening.

County Attorney Eggleston came to his office doorway and said eagerly, "I've been waiting for you Sid." As Link followed him inside, Eggleston asked, "See anything of Furlong?"

"I saw him, and I shot at him, but that's all."

Eggleston grimaced. "What a day this has been! A $1,000 robbery and the most flagrant case of criminal slander I ever saw in print."

"Huh?"

Eggleston took a newspaper from his desk and handed it to Link. "Julius Pardee was publicly slandered, and to a lesser degree you, Judge Barstow and myself."

Link stepped close to the bracket lamp and read both stories without comment. Then a thin smile altered his face and he said wearily, "Buchanan, Fyle is a good odd for a fact."

"Odd? The man is vicious—illegally vicious. I've had him arrested."

The sheriff blinked at him. "Who did the arresting?"

"Your deputy."

"Hipolito is supposed to be jailer."

"He's a deputy sheriff and has the authority to make arrests."
